Running out of pain

As he raises his hand you begin to understand

That no love is worth the hate that you feel

Now you're running out of pain

And all these feelings feel the same

So you close your eyes and wish it all away

<ENTER>

And I lie awake and I try to say

Anything I know just to ease your pain

But you hide away where no one can see

And it's only you that can set you free

<ENTER>

Now the time has come again

So you reach deep down within

To find the strength that you have buried there

As you turn to walk away you can still hear him say

You'll never make it in this world alone

<ENTER>

You try to fight (you try to fight)

You hide the pain (you hide the pain)

You walk away (never again)
