U2

Always

Here today, gone tomorrow

Crack the bone, get to the marrow

To be a bee and the flower

Before the sweetness turns to sour

What we have we're gonna keep, always

What we've lost we don't need, always

What is it that won't let you sleep, always

Be the arrow and the target

Put your head over the parapet

Be uncool, be awkward

Don't look in the dovious place

The soul needs beauty for a soulmate

Get down off your holy cloud, always

God will not deal with the proud, always

Well if you dream then dream out loud, always

Eternally yours, always

I want you

I want you

I want you

Know what to do yourself, always

Go find yourself in someone else, always

Wait for me I'm running late, always

This is the moment that we share for, always

Turning slowly into a prayer, always

Now and forever

For always...
