

Orthodox Celts

One

Are You Brave Enough To Enter My World
Only Chosen Are Invited To Witness My Insanity
Are You Strong Enough To Beat All The Fears
Meet Your True Self And Face Your Destiny

Are You Brave Enough To Look Inside Yourself
To Be Cold Like A River Still Feeling The Heat
Are You Strong Enough To Follow Your Dream
Suffering The Pain That Dreamers Hide

Many Are Drowned In This Sea That I Swim
Many Nailed To The Cross That I Bring
Many Are Burnt In Flames That I Feel
But I'll Never Be The Fallen One

Are You Brave Enough To Trust And To Believe
To Invoke The Forbidden And Forgotten Name Of God
Are You Strong Enough To Lose The Boy In You
To Pay The Price Of Becoming A Man

Many Are Fallen From The Skies That I Fly
Many Lost In The Nightmares I Live
Many Are Buried In The Ground That I Walk
But I'll Never Be The Fallen One

Many Are Deaf For These Words That I Spread
Many Blind For The Things That I See
Many Mouths Shut For The Things To Be Said
But I'll Never Be The Fallen One

Many Are Drowned In This Sea That I Swim

Many Nailed To The Cross That I Bring
Many Are Burnt In The Flames That I Feel
But I'll Never Be The Fallen One